
Little Harry's

Posted by tirish - 2008/01/25 07:27

Little Harry's has become one of my favorite area restaurants. It's conveniently located in downtown Rutland with plenty of parking nearby, and has great food, full bar, great atmosphere and service. I've been known to make an appetizer meal there - I'm a fan of hot stuff, and the fish soup served with some fresh jalepenos in vinegar on the side so you can adjust the heat kicks - as do the shrimp appetizer. Love the green curried mussels...

If you like steak, the New York and the Steak Sandwich both come with the tastiest chutney... You can't go wrong with anything on the menu be it duck, scallops, cioppino, pork chop... Just google them and see what others have to say! Great stuff - great people - great place :)

=====